CDE Number F-1906002	CDE Credit Hours 0.5 HRS

The new EFD protocol brought with it a new Chief Complaint "Backcountry Rescue". This protocol is intended to be used for rescue situations when accessing the victim might be difficult because of tough terrain, remoteness, weather, etc. This protocol will be very helpful as we come into the summer months and have a lot of outdoor enthusiasts in the area! With every new Chief Complaint comes a learning period and there has been a bit of trial and error with this one. We have a proposal for change in, but until there is an update, we wanted to give you a heads up on how to process this call.

Key Question 3 says, "Can you give me any additional details about what happened?" then has a large drop down to select the type of situation.

78: Backcountry Rescue

Entry	KQ	PDI/CEI	DLS	Summary
-------	----	---------	-----	---------

3. Can you give me any additional details about what happened?

←
→

AVALANCHE (multiple trapped persons)

AVALANCHE (single trapped person)

AVALANCHE (unknown number of trapped persons)

Trapped/Injured in CREVASSE

Trapped/Injured in INACCESSIBLE AREA

Trapped/Injured in landslide/mudslide

Trapped/Injured in HIGH ANGLE TERRAIN

Injured in accessible area

Not injured in INACCESSIBLE AREA

Not injured in landslide/mudslide

Not injured in HIGH ANGLE TERRAIN

Cave/Abandoned mine

Other (enter description):

Unknown situation (investigation)

At this point, we have not asked about injuries which makes it hard to know which one to select without freelancing. If nothing about injuries has been mentioned, we will select the "Not injured" option and then a follow up question about injuries will be given.
